Wemyss family launch Darnley's View gin

The Wemyss family are pleased to announce the launch of their small batch gin called Darnley's View. Darnley's View celebrates the meeting of Mary Queen of Scots and her husband Lord Darnley at the Wemyss family home, Wemyss Castle, in 1565.

Noted for their boutique production of premium wines and spirits, Darnley's View sits comfortably alongside the family's burgeoning spirits portfolio centred on their range of hand crafted malt whiskies, called Wemyss Malts.

A classic gin with balanced juniper and citrus, and a surprising twist in the form of fruity and floral elderflower, Darnley's View is distilled five times in the London Dry style according to a family recipe using six botanicals.

William Wemyss, Managing Director of Wemyss Malts & Darnley's View commented:

“After a year of working on the concept of Darnley's View, we are delighted to have successfully launched the brand last month at Prowein and subsequently have had high levels of interest from potential importers. We now look forward with confidence to developing the UK market for our gin.”
